

Simplify Foster Care Casework to Focus on Families

Foster care providers want their staff to focus on connecting with children and families. Technology should support that work—not stand in the way.

The fluctuating and urgent nature of foster care underscores the need for modern tools to manage complex casework processes while maintaining high standards of care. Providers need a system that truly supports their mission—one that reduces the administrative load so workers can focus on helping children and families thrive.

Arize is a modern EHR designed to simplify foster care workflows and minimize burdens on caseworkers, allowing providers to deliver comprehensive, timely, and collaborative care. Arize uses modern technology that allows foster care providers to tailor the system to meet their specific needs and requirements, keep up with constant changes, and modernize casework processes.

Benefits of Arize EHR for Foster Care

Foster Care Checklist for Success

Minimize Duplicate Data Entry:

Arize makes data available everywhere it's needed when it's entered into the system. It also gives you the ability to connect and share data with other systems, internal and external, as needed. This helps ease administrative burdens for foster care providers who previously had to double or triple key the same information in multiple systems for onboarding, managing parents/homes, case management, billing, and state-required data entry.

Consolidate Data and Reporting:

Many leaders don't realize in the moment, but challenges with data entry directly impact an organization's bottom line. Leadership needs to run the business effectively, which requires being able to see everything in one system. Arize helps providers improve revenue flow with less mistakes and make smarter spending decisions with better visibility into operations.

Enhance Communication:

Foster care providers need to collaborate with families, guardians, homes, court systems, agencies, and many other external providers and stakeholders. All these entities need access to similar data, which isn't often accessible in other EHRs. Arize takes a different approach, integrating client and stakeholder engagement tools into the EHR to simplify communication and collaboration. Providers can easily share documents and complete forms in real time, while allowing external stakeholders to access needed information.

Simplify Documentation:

Arize features templates that can be tailored to foster care processes to help staff complete documentation faster and with greater accuracy. Built-in workflows, notifications, and alerts ensure that nothing falls through the cracks and the mission keeps flowing.

Integrate Foster Parent Processes:

Arize simplifies licensing processes by allowing providers to gather and store background and compliance checks, safety inspections, incident tracking, and other documents. Since providers can analyze all data within the EHR, it can also help match the needs of each child with the best homes or parents available.

Increase Staff Satisfaction:

A positive user experience makes a measurable difference for frontline staff who are already carrying so much. Arize is intuitive, user-friendly, and reliable, which minimizes frustration and empowers meaningful interactions between all stakeholders. Information flows naturally, allowing staff to focus on strengthening support at every level of care.

Ensure Continuity of Care:

Children in foster care often move between multiple homes, which can disrupt care and create gaps in their health, education, and emotional support. Arize ensures that critical information travels with the child. This continuity empowers new parents, guardians, or case managers to make informed decisions quickly and improve outcomes.
